PASSENGER TRAVEL. DEPARTURES. BY GILMER & HALISBURY'S HAMILTON LINE: Fred Farnham

ABOUT AN OLD RESIDENT .- We find in the San Francisco Chronicle a relation of an incident which occurred in the Cal fornia Legislature of a similar character to the Somers-Wilcox outrage. In that instance the aggressor was the late Charles A. Leake, formerly a well-known resident of this county. The Chronicle says: Colby, who was for Broderick for United States Senator, was opposed to the extension of the time in which mas-ters might carry the slaves out of the State, and Leake, who was a Gwin man, favored it. Colby, in reply to Leake, denied the higher law allegation, and de-clared when the Senator from Calaveras made it he fibbed outright, but Colby used a word of only four letters. When the Senate adjourned for the day Colby sat at his desk writing, and Leake wen side, borrowed the heavy sword cane o stole up behind Colby and dealt him murderons blow on the head. Colby was stunned, but he rose, warded off the sec-ond blow, grappled with Leake at close quarters, threw him on one of the desks o wrench his spine, but the desk gave way, when Colby, with the foot and hip toss of a wrestler, threw Leake, breaking one of his legs. Leake was not out o into the Senate at the end of that time on crutches to vote for Gwin, but he wa a disgraced and ruined man. He lost caste, friends, associates, and he never held his head up afterwards. Colby was not injured in the least either in aind or public estimation; and poor Leake, when all the world had turned against him for his foul act, went to Colby and cried like a child for forgive-

SURPRISE PARTY.-Last evening a number of ladies and gentlemen surprised Judge Rives and his estimable lady by calling upon them in force. The invading party took possession of the house, and proceeded to make the Judge and family guests in their own dwelling. Harmless mirth and happy merriment then inspired the occasion, which will long be remembered by the participants as being one of unalloyed enjoyment. After spending a delightful evening, the visitors restored the control of the house-hold to its rightful hands and departed, leaving with the control of the houseleaving with the Judge and his respected lady the kindest and best wishes that true friendship and warm hearts could inspire and express

RETURNED .- The "beautiful" snow proves greatly averse to depriving us of its company. Yesterday morking about half-past seven it again commenced falling, and for the time being it looked as if it might continue for some while. But occasion things turned out better than was anticipated, for the snow soon ceased falling, but left us very muddy and slippery streets. Toward evening the weather became colder and clearer. Winter is no doubt very necessary in the sconomy of nature and is very pleasant as a change but we are getting sadly tired of it and shall be glad when the come around

A Man-TRAP. - When some one takes pains to wash off the sidewalk in front of their domicile and leaves a thin strainm of water on the surface thereof train of water on the surface thereof (the sidewalk we mean, not the domicle) then is constructed a first-class man-trap. Yesterday we saw a couple of staid individuals fall victims to this neat

Sweetness long drawn out, in ordinary

Continuous Sweetness.

hrase, molasses was yesterday the innocent cause of some acerbity in a usually amiable family circle. Pater Familias had purchased a keg of the saccharine fluid and had sent it home by a grocery wagon. On his way to the domestic shrine, the head thereof, visited a hardware store. and bought one of the patent faucets contrived for the cleanly and economical distribution of the liquid sweetness. Armed with this implement, he reached the hallowed scene where he had set up his Lares and Penates and proceeded to tap the keg. Placing it on a three-legged stool (ah, fatal stool), he commenced, with the aid of an inch augur, to bore a hole (ah, fatal sperture). As the augur was somewhat dull it did not bite very readily, so he leaned on it with more force than usual. After making a few turns, pop it went into the viscid fluid, turns, pop it went into the viscid fluid, and pop in return splashed the said fluid into the said Pater's eyes. With a muttered denunciation, he endeavored with one hand to clear his eagle optics from the clammy sweetness. While doing this he leaned his sinister paw too heavily on the keg on the side of the three-legged stool where there was no leg. Obeying nature's great law, when the center of gravity falls without the base, over went the keg and stool. Pater, still half blind with the sticky stuff, rushed to up end the keg, in which, after breaking his shins over the maleyolent stool, he succeeded. Taking breath, he returned to his task of disencumbering his visual organs of their saccharine impediments. Just at this instant in came the wife of his bosom, who shricked, "Gracious the molasses is running all over the and flew to ascertain the By this time Pater, to his astonishment, saw that he had placed the keg with the head downwards, in which he had bored the hole. He at once grabbed it, so did his wife, the was that their heads came together with about the force of the collision between the Baynard and Iron Duke. Down they went into the pool of molasses, knocking the keg on its side the molasses still pouring forth a serene and steady stream. Smeared and sticky and snorting with rage, Pater rose like another Antous and again grasped the keg, but still fortune was against him. His foot slipped and he fell, but in his fall, he accidentally rolled the keg against the back hair of his better half, which the (hair not the half) had been knocked off by the force of the original collision. This was more than that sorely tried lady could bear. Scrambling to her feet, she shricked. "You vil-lain, you did that on purpose and I will have a divorce if it costs my life." Pater. who was just getting on his feet. Yelled 'you can have a dozen if you will only take this infernal keg with you." Suiting the action to the word, he gave the fatal keg a tremendous kick, which sent it against the stove leaving a mournful trail of wasted sweetness behind it. The force of the blow was so great that it knocked out one of the stove legs and down came that useful portion of the downstic menage. With the stove came the family dinner, the soup scalded the cat, the meat fell out of the oven and havoc and ruin ruled the hour and the roast too. Pater to prevent a fire raised the stove and replaced the leg burning his hands and was nearly sufficeated by the smoke and steam. This done he strode off to plaster his fingers and change his molasses changed clothes His wife went to into hysteries and thence to bed and now a gloom hangs over the once happy mansion, which will take a week of the sunshine of good take a week of the sunshine of good temper to dispel, and all because of a three legged stool and the unskilful use

A DISTRESSED CELESTIAL .- Yesterday one of the natives of the "Flowery Land" experienced deep and dire distress. His pig, the pride of his soul, the theme of countless dreams of the exstatic attending the consumption of roast pork, was lost, stolen or strayed. The soul of Wing Was, the name of the unfortunate Mongolian, was rent with grief, for fear he would never again set eyes on his be-loved hog, which had cost "ten dollar hap." When we saw the denizen of the "Middle Kingdom" he was relating his loss to a burly Dutchman. The latter valid was about to call on Officer Kelley, when suddenly a familiar grunt struck his auricular organs and blest sight, in a moular organs and blest sight, in a mo-ment the truant porker came meander-ing along and was duly scooped by the exultant Chinaman, who by all the Joss that ever were rendered happy by the resonant combustion of fire crackers, that another morning should not dawn on a live pig belonging to him. So doubtless ere this Mongolian chops are wagging over the chops furnished by piggy's ribs.

GET OUT .- And he got and stood not upon the order of his going. The excdus of the masculine aforesaid was thus caused. Yesterday the fall of snow and caused. Yesterday the fail of snow and the partial thaw which followed, hadrendered the streets very muddy, regardless of which the hombre in question had sauntered round at his own sweet will and accumulated a large amount of real estate upon his clegant brogans (No. 14's). Oblivious of this fact, and also that he had been endeavoring to keep out of the cold by the imbibition of a powerful spiritual antidote, our friend made a call which resulted unpleasantly, for on entering the house he left his foot prints on the hall and parlor carpets in a choice article of mud. Seeing this, the lady of the house, almost speechless with indignation, gasped out: "You get out," and, as we before remarked, he got.

LOST CHECK FOUND.-A young man lost a check on Monday and made a number of inquiries about it but all to no purpose. Finally to his surprise, Joe Upton told the owner if he would stand the drinks he would let him have his check. The aforesaid young man complied with the terms and, after treating. Joe gave bim a check "good for one loaf" and said he would stand pat.

"IDAHO BILL" and Al. Winn we understand are in Pioche on a visit. So we were told any number of times last night by persons who claim to have seen them. They were the center of attrac-tion wherever they showed themselves.

BY TELEGRAPH! Legislature to take immediate action on

SPECIAL TO THE PIOCHE DAILY BROOKS BY WESTERN UNION LINE.

EASTERN DISPATCHES

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 .- Perrin H. Sumner has been arrested in Brooklyn. charged with forgeries in California for over $200,000. He was an official in the Baptist Church, and covered his transections with his professed piety. The Rev. Mr. Parshall, the pastor of the church, learned of some of his transactions, and at once he plotted to rain him by accusing him of adultery, which led to Parshall's leaving the pulpit.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8 .- A Times Washington special says the Committee on Appropriations, after hearing Dr. Linderman, has about decided that instead of there being a necessity for the establishment of a new mint in the West, almost a general abolition of them could be made. That at New Orleans will be among those to be abolished, as well as that at Charlotte, N. C., and Boise city. At Carson, Helena and Denver nothing but assay offices are to be maintained, keeping no other employes except Assayer Melter and clerk. This arrangement will leave but two mints, one at Philadelphia and the other at San Francisco. These mints have a capacity of one hundred and twenty-five millions, and as the capacity of the country is but sixty millions, the need of new mints is not established. Linderman was before the committee principally to ask for increased opportunities at San Francisco, Carson and Philadelphia, claiming them, on account of the increased coinage of silver under operations of the resumption act. The majority of the committee are hard money men, and it will be seen that in this manner the financial question will probably get before the House before the action of the Ways and Means or Banking and Currency Committees is presented.

The Committee on Territories has un der consideration a bill providing for the admission of New Mexico and Colorado, and also one to change; the government of Territories, so as to permit the people to elect their own officers, instead of having them appointed as now done by the general Government. These measares have not been fully matured, but met with favorable consideration by the committee, and will be reported in short time.

The Tribunes St. Louis special says there is a good deal of curiosity evinced to know what is going to be the outcome of President Grant's personal appearance on the witness stand in the Babcock case. There is no doubt but that the defense is counting largely upon the dramatic effect of his presence and expect a very favorable influence upon the jury. The prosecution evidently foresees the prestige that Grant's introduction as a witness will give Babcock and are preparing to counteract the result likely to ensue. The fact of Grant being Chief Magnistrate will doubtless be entirely ignored and he be subjected even to a more merciless cross examination than if he were an ordinary witness. There are Republicane here who fear the Presidents persistent friendship for his favorite secretary will not only bring discredit to him personally but in its result reflect badly upon his administration and finally do much harm to the Republican party. Should Broadhead the browbeater and inveterate Demograt get in on the President, a number of artfully contrived questions he might entrap him into certain answers that would put him and his administration at very great disadvantage.

Boston, Feb. 8.— The Whitefield Church at Newburyport and the First Church of Stratford, Connecticut, decline the invitation to Plymouth Church to attend the Advisory Council.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 8 .- The funeral of the Leason Brothers and of Cornelius Crowley, who were killed at the Robinson Opera House disaster on Saturday, took place yesterday. There was a large attendance. The friends of M. Runzi. another victim, arrived from Alton, Ills., and returned with the body. The list of names has been considerably increased but there were no more fatal cases.

PACIFIC' COAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8 .- For a long time past the press has been calling the attention of the public to the disgraceful state of affairs existing at the county jall, branch jail and city prision. Each Grand Jury has also in turn denounced the condition of these institution. The Committee of Health and Police made a report to the Board of Supervisors detailing facts which are a disgrace to civilization. The Committee reported that the number of prisoners now confined in the county jails and city prison is about 650, while there is barely room enough to properly accommodate one half of that number. Particularly is such the case at the county jail, where in many instances ten persons are confined in one cell of about six by eight, breathing the same lothsome air. The Committee also found that in the women's ward scarcely sufficient space is allowed for them to sleep. The number in eleven cells being sixty. Fully two-thirds of all the inmates of the jail are sick, many with fevertheing confined in cells with six or eight others suffering from different diseases. The number of cases of sickness occasioned by close confinement is increasing daily to an alarming extent and unless some steps are taken to prevent it it must necessarily result in an epidemie or pestilence. The Committee also found that of the poor and needy who must necessarily walk streets at night unless they can receive the hospitality of the prison walls, some thirty or forty are nightly lodged in the city prison with scarce any accommodation for their comfort. In view of these BULLION SHIPMENT.-Wells, Fargo & facts the Committee urged the passage Co. shipped yesterday bullion valued at $1,286. by the Board a resolution requesting the San Francisco Delegation in the

the bill now before them for opening a house of correction in order that many of the inmates of the jail may be removed to that institution, which is now complete, and when occupied will greatly relieve the jails. The Committee also urged the passage of a resolution authorizing them to take immediate steps to secure plans for the extension of prison facilities. SALT LAKE, Feb. 7 .- Chief Justice White in charging the Grand Jury today concerning polygamy said: "We had better look it squarely in the face, distasteful as it may be to some, and govern ourselves by right, reason and manly discretion in dealing with it. Polygamy must be suppressed in the Territory. Mormonism may survive it, and relieved from it would stand as unshackled and as free as every other creed or mode of religious worship, shielded and protected by the constitution of our common country, but if Mormonism can not sever itself from polygamy it will be to it the bridal of death."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. S .- The telegraph announces the arrest in New York of P. H. Sumner on a requisition from California for alleged forgeries aggregating $200,000. The delinquent was formerly a resident of Oakland and engaged in business as a real estate agent. He had an office also in this city. His rascalities have been found on investigation to crop out in nearly all his real estate transactions. Sumner obtained considerable notoriety in connection with the Parshall scandal. It was he who put the charges against Rev. Mr. Parshall into circulation. He subsequently gave out he had been attacked by men hired by Parshall with a view of assassinating him. He showed severe injuries inflicted and completely deceived his friends and physicians. He also showed letters purporting to be from Parshall threatening him. His conspiracy had the effect to drive Parshall from Oakland, and ruin him in the eves of the community for a long time. It finally transpired that the story was made out of whole cloth, and Sumner inflicted the wounds on himself and concocted letters to ruin Parshall, who then commenced suit against him. Soon after this Summer left clandestinely for the East where he has carried on a similar game to that played by him here. A heavy southeast gale prevailed last night and has continued at intervals during the day. The water in the bay has been excessively rough. A number of vessels trying to make out of port this morning were compelled to return and seek anchorage.

The Central Pacific freight boat Thor oughfare found 'it impossible to cross the bay with her loads.
